

SIMRAN CHOPRA

Mumbai-based visual design student seeking to tell stories that are unique, relevant and impactful.

I love telling stories, both visually and with words. I am currently exploring the liquidity of my potential - my work so far has traversed branding, content writing, copywriting, and illustration. I am on the lookout for teams and experiences that can expand my worldview, tickle my creativity, and contribute to the continuous process of evolving the way I approach design.
