

SIMRAN CHOPRA

Mumbai-based visual design student seeking to tell stories that are unique, relevant and impactful.

I am currently exploring the liquidity of my potential - my work so far has traversed branding, packaging, illustration, copywriting, and storytelling. I love creating things that can make people feel. I am on the lookout for teams and experiences that can expand my worldview, tickle my creativity, and contribute to the continuous process of evolving the way I approach design- both, visual and linguistic.
